Perimenopause Symptom Tracker and Doctor Appointment Checklist

A fuller symptom record, support planner, and doctor prep guide

Use this workbook when symptoms feel hard to explain and appointments feel rushed.

The goal is simple. Help you notice patterns, ask better questions, and stop relying on scraps of memory.

This workbook supports education and personal reflection. It is not medical advice. Talk with your doctor or another qualified healthcare professional about symptoms, treatment, supplements, or medication.

What to track every day

- Sleep quality, night waking, and morning energy
- Mood shifts, anxiety, irritability, tears, or rage
- Bleeding, spotting, hot flashes, headaches, joint pain, or breast tenderness
- Brain fog, forgetfulness, and concentration changes
- Food, alcohol, caffeine, stress, and movement notes

Weekly review prompts

- What symptoms showed up most often this week?
- What felt hardest to manage?
- What made symptoms worse?
- What helped even a little?
- What needs a doctor conversation instead of more guessing?

Doctor visit preparation

- Bring a one-page symptom summary
- Write your top three questions before the visit
- Track labs, scans, follow-ups, and next steps
- Use the partner or support-person page if someone is helping you remember details
